 AF JONES
STONE INTERIORS

INTRODUCTION

A F Jones has been creating beautiful stone interiors since 1858. Over 160 years of expertise in refining our products and service. We understand the importance of perfection.

Our team of skilled masons create all of our products at our state-of-the-art production workshops near Wallingford in Oxfordshire.

Our fine stone interiors combine elegance with durability and we are industry leaders in creating and installing kitchens, bathrooms, floors, stairs, fireplaces & hearths, and indeed any stone item you desire.

KITCHENS

Whether your style is contemporary or traditional, A F Jones Interiors offer the complete range of materials and design options.

Our service guides you on the journey from ideas through to design and specification, and then installation and aftercare.

Material Selection

The extensive range of stone we source from across the world means you are sure to find one to complement your home and budget.

We can show you options that you may not have considered and our experts will guide you through the selection process.

Let us help you to make the right choice whether it be Quartz, Granite, Marble, Slate or Porcelain.

We understand that investing in beautiful surfaces is an important decision for any home owner.

You can trust A F Jones to deliver first class service at every stage from timely production through to installation.

Design Options

The difference between 'good' and 'outstanding' is our attention to detail.

The important details of slab thickness, edge type, surface finish and the interface with sinks or cabinetry are all carefully considered to deliver an accurate and beautifully detailed installation.

Bathe

Service

A F Jones provide a complete end-to-end service from initial advice & detailing, through to final installation.

We manufacture each component to your bespoke requirements, measurements and detailing.

Materials

Marbles are our most popular choice due to its variety, beauty and suitability to a bathroom environment.

However all sheet materials can be used, including fine grained limestones, quartz, granites and even slate.

BATHROOMS

The joy of natural surfaces in this part of your home is unquestionable.

Products include vanity tops, shower trays, wall cladding, flooring, shower linings and niches.

Live

FLOORING

A F Jones supply a wide variety of flooring ranging from traditional English schemes to contemporary designs.

Materials can range from English and European limestones, to marbles from across the world, as well as porcelains and ceramics.

We can provide a complete service from selection and design, through to supply, delivery and installation.

However, if you have already appointed installers we can provide a selection and supply only service.

Design Options

Our expertise in selection and design ensures a successful project. Details are never over looked. These include: thickness of build up, thickness of tile, joint widths, cushioned edge options, tumbled and antiqued finishes, honed or polished surfaces, grout type, size and repetition of tiles, edge borders and door thresholds

Let the experts help you through this decision process.

STAIR CASES

A stone staircase adds timeless elegance to any home.

Whether it is a solid cantilever stone staircase or a clad staircase, our extensive experience is unparalleled - we are experts in manufacture and installation.

Materials

A variety of options are available ranging from British limestones and sandstones, to imported limestones or marbles.

Service

At A F Jones we provide the complete service from initial advice on options, through to design & detailing (including structural stone engineering where required) to full in-house production and installation.

Please feel free to ask for more examples of our past projects.

Heat

Design Options

Many room situations accommodate our core range of designs.

Where unique conditions exist, or a specific design is required, we are happy to provide a bespoke fireplace design.

FIREPLACES

AF Jones have an expertise and understanding of natural stone fireplaces which cannot be matched. We have created a diverse portfolio of timeless fireplaces for a complete range of homes. Each fireplace is hand finished in our Ipsden workshops and then installed by one of our specialist stone masons using a mix of modern best practice manufacturing and traditional stonework skills.

HISTORY

AF Jones have been creating stone interiors since 1858. The company was originally founded by William Jones in 1858 and was based in Bedford Road in Reading. It is a 5th generation family business and is now led by Angus Jones who joined the company in 1992.

OUR FACILITIES

We boast advanced production facilities and a large showroom in Ipsden, near Wallingford, where the latest modern technology is mixed with traditional skills to produce and install a vast array of stone. Generations of skill and knowledge infuse every piece of work the company creates.
